

Figure 2 Function Structure for a Projected International Design Institute, an example of a relatively small framework for an institution design.